Spring Fashion Preview Planned

To familiarize the female faction of Watertown High with the smartest 1956 fashions, the Girls' Club members will present its annual Spring Style Show in the high school auditorium on Tuesday evening, March 27 at 8:00 P. M.

Under the direction of the club's advisor Miss Eleanor Griffith, and the co-chairmen of the style show, Susan Lietzke and Margaret Meckes, the members plan to present a sneak preview of the latest '56 creations.

"A Day at the Country Club" is the theme around which the entire production is centered. Models in dashing sport clothes appropriately dressed for mid-morning golf matches or tennis bouts will be previewed. Casual and informal clothes will usher in the afternoon scenes. Finally, the climaxing act will gallantly depict a world of formal and evening dress, producing the real McCoy for the approaching school prom or those enchanting country club formals.

Bedtime and lounging apparel will be seen in the concluding presentation. A typical college room, complete with teddy bears, bulletin boards, and collegiate banners, will constitute the background for this group of relaxing models.

Local merchants donating clothes for this event include: Elliott's, Paul's, Fischers, Yosts, Penneys' and The Bonnet Shop.

All girls in Watertown High School, grades nine through twelve, and the mothers of Girls' Club members are cordially invited to witness this fashion review on Tuesday evening, March 27, at 8:00 in the high school auditorium.

Lowell Pritchard Wins F.F.A. District Contest

Success has come once again to Lowell Pritchard, the F. F. A.'s speaking representative, who walked away with honors at the District Contest held at Johnson Creek last month.

The next contest will be at Jefferson, and the winners will represent section five in the state contest. The title of Lowell's winning speech is "Let's Join the Do-It-Yourself Craze". It stresses the importance of the everyday farmer doing his part in the improvement of our country's farm program.

The deserving winner of the state contest will be rewarded with $100, and of the national, $1000.

Local Forensics Students Well Rated

This year, as in other years, students interested in any type of reading, speaking, or interpreting, delved into their pieces about six weeks before the first meet, in order to be thoroughly rehearsed. The participants chose their selections and practiced their enunciation, pronunciation, gestures, interpretation, poise, and presentation to perfection.

All those students who received A's in the local contest on February 28th went on to the league meet at Cedarburg, March 3rd. The following received A's there and will go on to district: Marilyn Carlson, Suzanne Hoppe, Karen Walworth, Cathy Platos, and Nina Stockli. These five girls will participate in the district contest at West Allis on March 24th.

In the field of extemporaneous reading, Margo Stellbrink and Karen Walworth both received an A rating in the local contest. These girls, coached by Miss Gruner, made and timed a cutting from a narrative poem and delivered it in five minutes. Judging was based on timing, presentation, diction, and clarity.

Deloris Rieck received an A in the non-original oratory division, and Nina Stockli in original oratory. These orations, coached by Miss LaTondress, could be given in either a five or an eight minute speech and were judged on their ability to exercise eloquent speaking.

In the interpretive reading contest, Marilyn Carlson and Diana Schuene-mann captured A's, while Betty Schoechert and Carol Eggert received B's. This section of forensics was also coached by Miss Gruner.

Miss Fox instructed students in the serious declamation group. Memorizing and delivering a ten minute serious address was accomplished by Judy Port and Cathy Platos, who were awarded A's, while Margie West received a B.

Miss Nelson and Miss Mundt, coaches of humorous declamation, produced two A winners in their group, namely: Karen Nowatzki and Suzanne Hoppe. A third participant, Katherine Lueck, received a B rating. This branch of forensics consists of memorizing and delivering a ten minute comical selection.

All coaches and participants were well-pleased with the results of the contests and are looking forward to more honors for our school.

Third Section of Orbit Goes To Press

My name is Orbit, address: room 104. My editors are completing me more and more. From cover to cover, I have memories for you. Here's hoping you have fun reading me through.

Three cheers! The third section of our Orbit went to press just a short while ago. Kathleen Blaese, in charge of the section, guarantees that it has a new look. We all know that everything is top secret when it comes to the Orbit, because it is all supposed to be a surprise. While attending a year-book convention at the Conrad Hilton Hotel in Chicago, the eds accumulated new and more modern ideas and also were made aware of the "do's" and "don'ts" of yearbooks.

The fourth and final section, under the direction of Carol Kohls, is due to go to press by March 21. It is filled with new ideas, and sports editors, Ray Kaercher and Norm Schroeder have put in many long hours to give the sports section a "neat" look. Susan Lietzke, literary editor, has changed the usual style of this section to fit in with the theme. With Tom Janke doing the humor we all know it'll be tops!

Musicians Are Active; Touring Nearby Towns

Oconomowoc and Menomonee Falls are the scenes of the two concerts presented by the orchestra today. At Menomonee, the group is presented with a dual challenge—that of playing an enjoyable program and of selling the idea of an orchestra to the student body, for Menomonee is tentatively planning to organize a musical program. Tara, the theme song from Gone with the Wind, and two movements of Offenbach's Ballet Parisien will highlight the program as brand new material. Repeats of the better selections in the orchestra's repertoire include: Hungarian Dance, Jean de Paris Overture, and Concertina for Clarinet.

On April 27-29, the band will tour Black River Falls, Clintonville, Chippewa Falls, and Menomonee on a Week-end concert trip. This event, the first of its kind, is eagerly awaited by the students, and Mr. Stamstad is especially eager, for Black River Falls is his former home and place of teaching.

March 24 is the date set for the King Arthur's Court Scene of Class Play

A Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court by John G. Fuller was the unanimous choice of the Senior Class Play committee. This group consisting of Tom Janke, Audrey Hoffer, Norm Schroeder, Pete Huber, and Suzanne Reuschel chose this three act comedy, based on Mark Twain's book of the same title, for its original dramatization of a Yankee from Connecticut, who finds himself going backwards through the centuries into the Court of King Arthur.

Tryouts were held for three nights and the judges, Miss Skinner, Miss Fox, and Miss LaTondress, finally decided on this cast:

Hank Bennett.....	Tom Janke
Marion, his sister.....	Ruth Schwenkner
Mrs. Bennett.....	Elaine Vergenz
King Arthur.....	Bill Schatz
Queen Guenevier.....	Marlene Kausch
Merlin.....	Norm Schroeder
Sif Sagramor.....	Robert Taylor
Clarence.....	Charles Ebert
Elaine.....	Carol Schlueter
Sir Launcelot.....	Ed Oppenrud
Queen Morgan LeFay.....	Jane Craine
Sandy.....	Mary Jane Staude
Lady in Waiting.....	Shirley Frish

This production will be presented for the public on Friday evening, April 13, at 8:00 P. M. in the auditorium.

annual solo-ensemble district music festival, to be held at Port Washington. About a hundred entrants will participate from Watertown in the respective classification of strings, woodwinds, brasses, and vocal.

In addition to these events, the second concert in the mid-winter series will be presented by the orchestra on Tuesday, March 20. The selections played at Oconomowoc and Menomonee will be on the program plus other variations and ensembles.

The program will begin with three selections by the Orchestra, to be followed by a sax quartet, a girls' double trio consisting of six girls, and a trombone duet. Next on the program will be a mixed vocal duet, a string trio, and a piano solo. They will be followed by a baritone duet, a girls' vocal duet, and a horn quartet. The program will close with another two selections by the orchestra. This concert promises to be extremely enjoyable. The variety of the selections and types of instrumental music offer something to all.

Library Reminder Given

A reminder from the library is once again being given; Mrs. Richardson informs students that a complete set of the World Book encyclopedias is located under the large dictionary in the southwest corner of the auditorium. These books may be used for reference work during students' free periods and may not be checked out.

A large number of new books have been ordered; they will arrive in the near future. More information on these will be given in the next edition of the Hi Scribbler.

NEW!! Display stands in the library will soon carry pocket books, to be checked out, as regular books, for two-week periods.

These are a few of the 100 pocket books ordered:

Love is Eternal	Stone
Caine Mutiny	Wouk
The Cruel Sea	Monsarret
The Way West	Guthrie
Lydia Bailey	Roberts
Good Morning, Miss Dove	Patton
Lost Horizon	Hilton

Essay Tells How To Lose Friends

It is a fairly easy job to lose friends these days, and it can be done in a relatively short time. I think I can lose friends as fast as the next man and am planning to write a new book on this theme called "How to Lose Friends and Influence Kangaroos."

The main implement used in losing friends is a large, oval hole in the head called a mouth. Its main purpose is to take in food, water, gum, coke, and chocolate milk, and to dispose of coughs, sneezes, and belches. It is also the main attraction in all yawns and is often used as a third hand. Man uses his mouth for talking also, and that's where the fun begins.

An uncomplimentary remark at the right time is an unfailable method of getting rid of friends. A simple wise remark is often not enough since it is too soon forgotten. A nice remark such as "You look terrible today" or "Why don't you wear some good clothes" is very effective.

Since we all know that each of us is better than all the rest, why not tell everyone about it? You'd be surprised how many friends you can lose this way if you really keep your mind to it.

If you can't lose enough friends with your mouth open, then go to the other extreme, where there are two sure-fire methods. The first is to give a party and exclude several of your friends. This method not only is fool-proof but also has lasting results.

The second method gets rid of a great number of friends with comparatively little effort. This is to walk through the halls with your nose in the air, refusing to recognize anyone. This gives the appearance that you are conceited and never fails to lose a great number of friends.

If any of these methods should fail, there is still the ole ace in the hole, stale jokes and cliches. If a couple of good ole stale jokes and good ole cliches don't make you a real obnoxious creature, nothing will.

With these simple instructions, no one need have too many friends. Remember the old Chinese saying, "He who loses friends has fewer Christmas cards to send."

by Norm Schroeder

The Junior Historians' candy sale and paper drive proved very successful. The treasurer has announced that the proceeds exceeded one hundred dollars. The club would like to thank everyone who helped make this possible.

The Junior Dramatic Club is busy rehearsing a play, "Creeps at Coffin Castle," written by Art Parson. The play will be presented at a future Junior High PTA meeting.

Juniors Present Fairy Tale, "Puss in Boots"

During the past month, the Junior Dramatic Club, under the guidance of Miss La Tondress, presented its workshop play entitled "Puss in Boots". It was given for the children of Lincoln and Webster Schools and also for students at Watertown High.

The plot of the play followed the famous fairytale theme quite accurately. Christophe, a wood-cutter, was desperately in love with the beautiful Princess Angelique, but due to rigid royal rules, he couldn't even talk to her. His sole possession was an extremely intelligent cat named Minet. The villainous Enchanter tried to bribe the king for Angelique's hand in marriage, so he could obtain her five leaf clover (the only one in existence) and add it to a potion which would make him immortal.

Lise, his servant, warned everyone of his intentions and Minet slyly cajoled the Enchanter to change into a mouse, whereupon Minet pounced on him and had a hearty meal.

Thus, the king defied all rules and gave his charming princess to the pure and simple Christophe.

The cast of characters were:

Christophe	Dean Pfeifer
Minet	Nancy Landsverk
King	Charles Miller
Princess Angelique.....	Nina Stockli
Enchanter	Guy Scott
Lise	Sandra Reinhard

Junior Prom Plans Progressing

The Junior Class has started working and planning for its 1956 Prom. Their theme "Deep Purple" was a unanimous choice. Just what figures and scenes will splash the lavender background are still top secrets, but chances are they'll be intriguing ones.

By popular vote, each homeroom chose two representatives to be on the steering committee. The people on this committee are heading smaller individual committees. They are: Refreshments: Sharon Baer; Programs, Donna Koerner; Invitations, Susan Plenge; Ceiling, Bob Hargraves; Grand March, Sandra Reinhard; Crowning, Phyllis Tietz; Checkroom, Mary Lou Marr; Furniture, Roger Theder; Lighting, Fred Jaye; Decorations, Bill Raue and Joyce Hackbarth; Publicity, Margaret Meckes; and Clean-up, Roger Borchardt.

The Junior Class Advisors for the committees are: Steering committee, Miss La Tondress; Furniture and Clean-up, Mr. Grabow; Grand March, Crowning and Lighting, Mr. Stamstad; Ceiling, Mr. Landsverk; Refreshments and Checkroom, Miss Lueschow; Program, Invitations, and Prom king elections, Miss Dopkins; Decorations, Miss La Tondress and Miss Lueschow.

All the committees are busily working individually and jointly to make this year's Prom something to be remembered. Chairman and Advisors are co-operating to direct the committee members. If the noise at some of the committee meetings is any indication of the future perfection of the Prom, no one need worry.

The Junior Prom will be held on April 20th, with the usual Post-Prom party after it; it promises much enjoyment for all in attendance.

Ray Kaercher Chosen Rotary Boy for March

This month's Rotary boy is Ray Kaercher. Each month the Rotary Club chooses an outstanding senior to attend its meetings.

Although red hair is usually associated with a fiery temperament, there are always exceptions to the rule. A likeable boy with a mild manner, Ray's subjects this year are advanced math, English, Drafting II (his favorite subject), American problems, band, and orchestra. Interested in music, Ray plays the baritone saxophone and the alto saxophone in the Pep Band and the Campus Band.

Ray belongs to the Dramatic Club. Hamburgers are tops with him in the food category. After graduating this spring, Ray intends to go to the University of Wisconsin, after which he will become a civil engineer. Besides all these other activities, he keeps a high scholastic average which is one of the requirements to be met in order to be chosen "Rotary Boy of the Month."

Seniors Promise Propitious Play

Mr. Hinterberg Answers Council's Questions

Student Council Meeting

The Student Council meeting on Thursday, February 23rd, had a new addition. Mr. Hinterberg was asked to be present to answer some questions which had come up during the year.

One of the questions asked was whether students with an A or high B average could eliminate one of their semester exams; Mr. Hinterberg, however, thought that the present system provided more preparation for college work.

An extension of the homeroom period for the benefit of the juniors working on prom preparations, etc., was also suggested, but Mr. Hinterberg said this would not be of use to enough people. On specific occasions, however, time will be granted on request.

A Student Council dance is also being considered for this year. The president would stamp his approval if enough members volunteered to clean up the next day.

The senior representatives proposed that the graduating class should march into the gymnasium on Award Day and be seated together. It was all right with Mr. Hinterberg, provided they practice on their own time. He further suggested that the Seniors vote to determine whether or not they want to practice on their own time.

Amendments proposed to the Council constitution included: the office of treasurer, alternates to attend all meetings as well as regular representatives, and one meeting a month to be held on the second Monday at 3:45 and to last no later than 4:30. The treasurer's office and one meeting a month were approved by Mr. Hinterberg.

News Briefs

John Begg and his ballet troupe presented a very interesting assembly program to the senior high student body on February 27.

Interpretations of seventeenth century ballet were given, as well as a ballet from the Nutcracker Suite.

Mr. Begg offered a series of comments on ballet between each number and, to everyone's surprise, he danced the ballet also.

The ballet troupe closed its program with an interpretation of the ballet as used in modern choreography for movies and television.

Although the troupe consisted of only four dancers, they demonstrated a wide variety of talent in their program.

"Is there or is there not life on the planet Mars?" Russell and Roger Block debated that topic at a meeting of the newly-formed Science Club. Each member is required to give a topic during the year.

The primary purpose of the club is to venture into all fields of science. This spring, they plan to take a field trip and study various plants and animals, plus a visit to the weather bureau.

The club's fifteen members do experiments together and discover many unknown interests. Meetings are held on Tuesdays in room 203 under the guidance of Mr. Herreid.

During the week of February 20th Jane Weaver and Carol Attoe, senior students in the University of Wisconsin's physical education department, instructed Miss Spaude's gym classes as part of their training. Jane, familiar to many students, graduated from Watertown High and was the first recipient of the Jos. Davies scholarship.

In addition to the high school classes, the two girls also supervised the

When the Senior Class presents The Connecticut Yankee in King Arthur's Court, they will feature an all star cast of players in this delightfully entertaining story. It tells, you may remember, of a shrewd and clever Yankee who finds himself in King Arthur's court, and who develops all the miracles of the twentieth century to baffle the court of King Arthur. Marlene Kausch, who plays the role of Queen Guenevier, will offer an excellent characterization of a domineering queen who practically runs the good-natured and somewhat discouraged King Arthur, who will be played well by Bill Schatz. Queen Morgan Le Fay, the scheming, black-hearted woman, will send shivers up and down you when you witness Jane Craine in this role. Her villainous partner is none other than the magician Merlin. Norm Schroeder is to portray this part, and you will probably have trouble sleeping afterward. Sandy and Elaine are very charming young ladies of the court, and they will be played by Mary Jane Staude and Carol Schlueter. Tom Janke, as Hank Bennett, the Connecticut Yankee, will undertake a difficult and screamingly funny role, and you will be delighted with his antics. Marion, his sister, will be breezily and happily played by Ruth Schwenkner, and Mrs. Bennett, the harassed mother of Hank, is to be portrayed by Elaine Vergenz. Clarence, the mischievous page boy, will be played by Charles Ebert, while Robert Taylor and Ed Opperud will show how they would have been very excellent knights of old in the roles of Sir Sagamor and Sir Launce-lot.

W.H.S. Students Take Part In Marimba Choir

Last year, Mr. Goodlette, a Methodist Sunday School teacher, organized "The Walt Goodie Marimba and Vibra-Harp Choir". This group became so popular that he expanded until the present number includes fifteen members who play the marimbas, the vibra harp, and another who does the reading.

Of the sixteen members, seven attend Watertown High School. They are: Pat Kugath, reader; Judy Melcher and Sandra Kugath, soloists; Beverly Wampler, Margo Stellbrink, Shirley Frish, and Darlene Jahnke comprise the remaining number.

A full schedule of playing is planned for the Lenten Season, including programs at Lodi, Milton, Ebenezer, Wisconsin Dells, Lake Geneva, and the Moravian Church in Watertown. At these programs, the choir presents "The Life of the Master in Music and Scripture," plus an optional production of classical numbers.

Soon after school is concluded in June, the choir is planning to travel to Ohio where they will entertain at a National Ministers' Council.

women's gym classes on Monday night.

The Jr. Red Cross will soon start on its annual project of making scrapbooks for hospitalized children. The scrapbooks will be sent to St. Colleta's at Jefferson and to the Bethesda Home.

Another future project for the Jr. Red Cross will be the filling of boxes to send to less fortunate children overseas. These boxes will be placed in each homeroom and will be filled with small necessary articles.

Watertown's Future Nurses' Club recently visited the Future Nurses' Club of Whitewater High School.

The girls from Whitewater presented a humorous skit concerning an operation. All the girls were served a lunch while they discussed the activities of their clubs. All the future nurses enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon.

SPRING FEVER STRIKES

Recently, W.H.S. has been struck by an epidemic. The symptoms: extreme inability to remain seated for fifty-five minute periods, concentration impossible, and an uncontrollable yearning for the great outdoors. If this describes your feelings, you are suffering from an ailment commonly known as Spring Fever.

Each year "the fever" attacks our school and makes studying seem virtually impossible. Many students surrender without a fight and become helpless victims of this metastatic growth.

Students! Where is your will power? Are daydreams and reveries such flowers that you should pluck them so? Don't you know when you have tread too far on the tender, yet dangerous path? Are your powers of estimation so limited that you must have a literal device to determine your degree of wandering?

Well this is the device. Its meter, virtually sprung from over use, signals retreat, reform, and restitution. Retreat to your former methods of studying, dispose of the parasitic dreams which are slowly sucking the blood of knowledge from your minds and make restitution for the valuable lost time by doubly redoubling strokes upon the books!

If this doesn't sever the bonds of dreaming and yearning, then your grades certainly will. There is nothing like red letters to grasp you from the clutch of careless habits. To prevent the latter from happening, take this advice now. There is no time like the present. Now spelled backwards is Won!

Kathleen Blaese was recently chosen to fill the vacant position of Literary Editor on the Hi Scribbler staff. She will be sharing the burden with Mary Lou Marr in planning and organizing the society page. Sheen has been a reporter on the staff ever since her freshman year, and in recognition of her excellent journalistic ability, she has been unanimously elevated to the position of Literary Editor. Congratulations, Sheen!

Double Talk

TEACHERS MEAN:

1. Mark this, you will have it on the test.
2. This is hard; you probably won't understand it, but study it anyway.
3. Hurry up! I have work to do.
4. Can you prove you did not go fishing?
5. Just wait until we find out who has been carving on the desks.
6. It is easier to throw all the papers in the waste basket at once.
7. No.
8. The preceeding statement was incorrect.
9. Many of will never get out of W.H.S.
10. Only four students passed.

TEACHERS SAY:

1. This is not very important.
2. This assignment is not difficult in the least. You should have no trouble with it.
3. All right, Little One, what is bothering you?
4. Do you have an excuse for your absence?
5. This school is your school, and we know you want to keep it in good condition.
6. You get less credit for work that is handed in late.
7. No.
8. Do you agree with that, class?
9. Some of this class should go to college.
10. I'll admit the test was rather difficult.

Gadabout Hi

My, my, what's this generation coming to! Girls picking up boys—How about it, Sue R.?

If you hear some off-sounding trumpet music through the corridors after school that sounds like a fire siren, don't get panicky! It's only two gone guys practicing their duet. Who? Why, Tom and Bill, of course.

Better watch that stuff, Marie D. We see how chummy you and Don K. have been lately—telling secrets and what not!

What's this about Phyllis T. going for guys called "Chuck"—and from Pipersville, too!

If you see a purple Chevy coming down the street with the driver running after it—head for cover! Pat M. keeps forgetting to turn the ignition off when she closes the garage!

The senior teas usually start early, but this year's class has really set a record. Don't you agree?

Say, Harv and Bernie—what were you two doing Saturday night at Kady's party?

A mystery! Who can solve it? The case of the apple cores under Hartford's bleachers. Seems no one knows how so many were deposited after Watertown's game and where they came from. Any ideas!? If so, contact Toj.

Seems a certain girl likes writing letters to "Wire Request". How about that, Annette?

The senior girls really know how to throw P. J. Parties. 'Tis heard, while all sane people were in Slumberland, seven crazy girls were shoveling snow at 4 A. M. and then eating ice cream at 5 A. M. For further information, contact Karen N.

Lately some junior girls have been inviting N.W.C. boys to their parties. How do you go about this, Phil and Mardelle?

If any signs are missing from tournament games, consult Kay K. She has an unusual hobby of collecting "things".

Nancy H. and Barb L. have been looking for someone who can break coded notes. I guess Annette and Judy have a "dilly" to break.

It seems a few chemists from 5th hour class take to the "cheaper" seats and talk about complexes. Know anything about this, Carol, Donna, Mary, and Tom?

Seems Nana Stockli likes to read a lot—especially an article entitled "Oh, for the Love of Mike". How come that one, Nana?

Spotlight

For those of you who were unable to guess last month's "star," here is a hint. Her nickname is "Sheen". Of course, now you know that last month's star was Kathleen Blaese.

This month our light is cast upon a junior boy. Upon close observance, we note that he is 6 feet tall, has big brown eyes and short curly hair. When asked about girls, he says he enjoys dating, which he believes is a pleasant pastime.

Since his nickname is too well known, we will refer to him as "Mr. X". Mr. X says his favorites are as follows:

Favorite food: Not fussy, but likes steaks.

Favorite recreation: High school athletics; listening to good music.

Favorite song: "Why Do Fools Fall In Love?"

Favorite hang out: Dave's Cue and Cushion.

Favorite subject: Chemistry with geometry ranking a close second.

His hobbies include pool and all sports such as swimming, ice skating, hockey, etc. In school athletics Mr. X has been very active. In basketball he has been on "B" squad two years, and on "A" squad this year. After being on "B" squad two years, and "A" squad one year, Mr. X has received a letter in football, and also has a letter from his two years in track.

His subjects this year include: geometry, chemistry, history, and English.

My beam seems to be failing, so we will look forward to seeing you next month when we present a new "star".

HI KIDS,

How are you coming along now that the second semester is well on its way? The seniors are looking forward to the class play. Don't forget that it is the responsibility of every single one of you to help make it a success.

The juniors are busy getting the prom started. Everybody is trying to think of novel ideas for decoration and theme display. Of course, they hope to make this the best prom to date.

The workshop plays are keeping the freshmen and sophomores busy and they seem to be doing a fine job.

With all these activities, no one should be without something to do. So pitch in and do your share. See you next month.

Another one of those fun for-all teenage dances is being planned for April 2. Watertown's teens have shown their appreciation of previous dances by their large attendance. April 2 is only a few days after Lent; surely every "dungaree" guy and doll will be ready to "Rock and Roll" after six weeks of having no high school dances.

The Bowling Leagues, which have been a huge success this year, came to an end on March 10.

On April 4, the annual Table Tennis Tournaments will begin. The tournaments are open to all students attending city schools in the 4th thru 12th grades.

Nothing to do after homework's done Tuesday and Friday nights? Why not stop in at the Yac? There is always something there to entertain you. Keep these hours in mind Tuesday nights from 7:00 to 10:00 P. M., and Friday nights from 7:30 to 10:30 P. M.

Goslings Tie For Braveland Title

Rebounding from two successive defeats, the Goslings tied for the Braveland Conference title by whipping Menomonee Falls 96-75. Playing under pressure because Cedarburg had already qualified for a share of first place by beating Port Washington, the Goslings still came through in fine style, racking up their highest score of the season. Jerry Sell collected 25 points, followed by Pete Huber with 20, and Roger Theder with 12. The Goslings thus finished the season with a 6-2 record in Conference play. This enabled them to share the championship with Cedarburg for the second year in a row. Last year both Watertown and Cedarburg had 7-1 records in the Conference.

In other games, the Goslings edged Hartford 75-71 in the second meeting of the season between the two teams. Outscoring the Hartford five 25-17 in the third period to erase a slim Hartford lead gave the Goslings the victory. Jerry Sell racked up 22 points, while Mike Mullen hit for 19.

The season's highest scoring game produced a 90-80 conference victory over Port Washington. With a 12 point half time advantage, it looked as if the Goslings were going to romp home with an easy victory, but Port stormed back to outscore the cagers 29-13 in the third quarter, to take the lead. The Goslings, sparked by the fine play of Roger Theder, finally reorganized themselves in the fourth quarter and were able to take command again. Jerry Sell led all scorers by dumping in 27 points, while Mike Mullen chipped in with 16.

The Goslings slipped up on their chance to take sole possession of the Braveland Conference lead by dropping a close-fought battle to Cedarburg, 55-53. An off night, coupled with a good defensive game by the Bulldogs, was enough to spoil the cagers' chances. Pete Huber contributed 13 points to a losing cause, followed by Jerry Sell with 10.

In a non-conference clash, a high powered Fort Atkinson team whipped the Goslings 99-69. It was the highest score ever tallied up against a Gosling basketball team. Sandvold

GAA

The girls in W.H.S. Girls' Athletic Association are looking forward to Recreational Sports, which will be next on the agenda for this coming month. Recreational Sports include: badminton, shuffleboard, ping-pong, and a little volley-ball.

Kay Kaddatz and Carol Kohls are teaching women's gym classes every Monday evening.

There are also several girls who are teaching gym classes for grade school children in order to help get their letters in G.A.A.

These and many other worthwhile activities are offered by the G.A.A.

Spring Sports Start

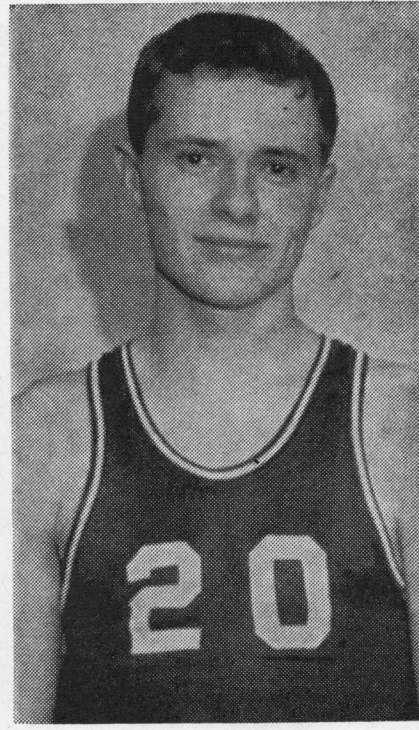

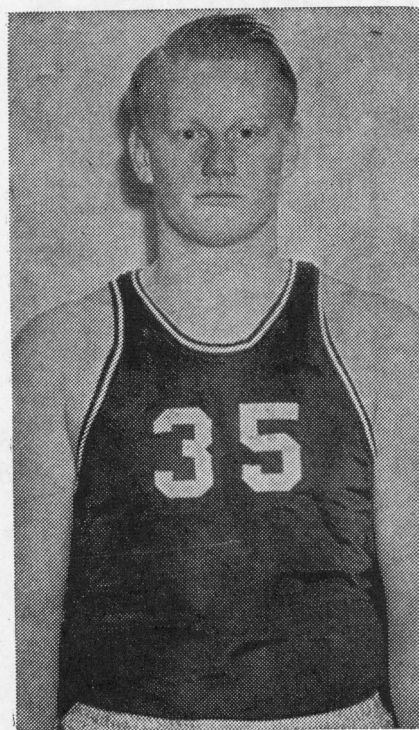

Both the track and baseball teams have begun working indoors each night after school preparing for their respective season openers. As soon as the weather is fit, both teams will move out to Washington Park to continue workouts.

The track team will have some decent facilities to work with this spring, when the proposed cinder track encircling the park will be completed. Although it will still not be as good as some of the track facilities other schools have in the area, it is hoped that it will be the beginning of a new and better layout. Pete Colletti will again guide the track squad, assisted by Sam Dougan and George Vinger.

Jim Thompson will again be head coach of the varsity baseball team which he so skillfully guided to the state championship last spring. He will, however, be faced with the task of rebuilding a team that was hit hard by graduation. Lettermen back this year will be: Jerry Sell, Mike Mullen, Bill Crupi, Roger Theder, Duane Stark, and Charles Brumm. Coach Harris Grabow will handle the "B" squad baseball team.

scored 38 points for the winners. Mike Mullen led the Goslings with 19 points and Doug Bruss collected 11.

Sell, Huber Cop Honors

By being named Most Valuable Player by his teammates, Jerry Sell added honor to the growing list of awards he has received during his high school career. Jerry was also elected to the Braveland All-Conference team for the second straight year, having been named to the second team last season. He was second to Ted Kent of Cedarburg for the individual scoring crown and wound up with an 18.1 point average in 8 league games.

Jerry was a standout for the Goslings this past season and led them in four different departments. He scored 367 points in 21 games for a 17.5 average, picked off 207 rebounds, dumped in 99 free throws and had a free throw shooting percentage of 72%.

Jerry has been a regular on the varsity since his sophomore year. Last season he again was the top point producer for the Goslings, racking up 255 points. To go along with his offensive ability, Jerry also has been the best defenseman for W.H.S. and was usually assigned the difficult task of guarding the opponent's top scorer.

The basketball court isn't the only place where he shines. Jerry is also an outstanding performer on the baseball diamond. Last season he was the Goslings number two pitcher, and when not on the mound, the outfield. He hurled the Goslings to victory in the most crucial game of the state tournament, which enabled them to enter the finals and take the state crown. This year the hopes of the Goslings will be pinned greatly on his strong right arm as they go out to defend the championship.

Besides participating in basketball and baseball, Jerry held down a regular position on the football team this year, although this was his first season on the squad.

B Squad Has 12-6 Mark

The Gosling "B" team completed their 18 game schedule by defeating Menomonee Falls, 55-51. The junior cagers thus finished up with a 12-6 record and also won the unofficial Braveland "B" title, dropping only one conference game. In their final appearance as "B" cagers, Jahnke hit for 18, Pirkel for 11, and Markl for 9.

With Ken Jahnke leading the way with 17 points, the "B" cagers defeated Hartford 51-44. A 7 point halftime advantage helped the Goslings in getting this victory. Ralph Krueger racked 13 and Dave Pirkel 12.

A new single game high point rec-

Pete Huber, Gosling forward, was elected honorary captain by his teammates for the '55-'56 season. That enabled Pete to captain the Blue and White cagers for the four remaining games of the season—Menomonee Falls, Oconomowoc, Milwaukee West and Milwaukee East.

As a regular on the varsity this past season, Pete amassed a total of 199 points in 21 games for an average of slightly less than 10 points per game - good enough for third place in the individual scoring race. He was also among the leaders in rebounding, shooting percentage and free throws scored. Pete also earned a reputation as a playmaker for the Goslings, setting up plays and passing off to teammates for easy buckets.

Pete was also named to the Braveland All-Conference team, along with Mike Mullen and Jerry Sell. He scored 82 points in conference play, finishing ninth in individual scoring.

Last fall Pete was elected co-captain of the football team with Tom Finnel. Besides that, he was also named to the All-Conference gridiron eleven at the quarterback position.

ord was achieved by the Goslings when they defeated Port Washington 75-50. It was the highest number of points scored by a Watertown "B" team. Dave Pirkel, Ken Jahnke, and Jim Markl were the big guns in the Gosling attack, scoring 21, 19, and 16 respectively.

A 48-45 overtime victory over Cedarburg gave the Goslings their third straight victory. The score at the end of regulation time was 45-45, but baskets by Markl and Jahnke pulled the game out of the fire in the over time period.

The "B" cagers were overcome in their final game of the season by a strong Fort Atkinson quintet, 63-41. The cagers were down by only two points at the half, but a 40 point surge by Fort in the second half overwhelmed the Goslings. Jim Markl scored 14 points for Watertown.

Goslings Are Consolation Winners

The Watertown High Goslings, Co-Champs with Cedarburg of the Braveland Conference, captured consolation honors in the Hartford Regional Tournament with a 74-60 victory over Milwaukee East Saturday night, March 3. A 25 point outburst in the third period enabled the Goslings to overcome a two point halftime deficit. Jerry Sell led the Gosling attack with 23 points, while Mike Mullen hit for 15 and Pete Huber 13.

The win gave the Goslings a sweep of both games against Milwaukee schools in the tournament. A win over Milwaukee East Thursday evening gave the Blue and White cagers a berth in the consolation finals. High man for the Goslings in the East clash was Jerry Sell, who contributed 24 points to the 78-48 score. Mike Mullen hit for 19 points. The Goslings came up with one of their season's best games against the East quintet, with a 30 point third period, turning the game into a complete rout.

In their opening game of tournament play, the Goslings were downed for the third time this season by Oconomowoc 78-67. Jerry Sell again led Gosling scorers with 17 points. Mike Mullen got 14.
