Watertown Secures Free Cushions For Disabled Veterans

The L. M. Bickett Company of Watertown, Wisconsin is offering free, a Spine Protex Respirator Chair Cushion to every disabled veteran in the State of Wisconsin required to sit long hours because of his disability.

Close examination of this respirator cushion reveals that the elasticity and buoyancy of sponge rubber into which a ventilating system is incorporated becomes a scientific seating device very useful to any one sitting for wage or of necessity. The cushion is nationally known and, as the back cover add indicates, is in use from Suez to Frisco.

In his offer Mr. Bickett stipulates that any disabled veteran in the state of Wisconsin, so disabled that much sitting is necessary, may have a Respirator Chair Cushion absolutely free. He also insists that all requests will originate with the local AMVET Service Officer in each city, endorsed by him, and forwarded to Russel Ebert, Service officer, Riedemann Thompson Post 35, Watertown, Wisconsin. Service Officer Ebert will then have direct liaison with W. A. Larson, Sales Manager, L. M. Bickett Company.

In his generous offer Mr. Bickett should be heartily congratulated on his fine attitude toward the disabled veteran, and Amvets are happy to be his agent in distributing these fine cushions.
